MAIN PANELS AT EACH SALON

Startup Panel

What are Hong Kong's unique strengths in supporting a startup ecosystem? The Startup Panel showcases successful startups that have either set up business in Hong Kong or moved to the SAR as a base for expansion across the region and into China. Join us as global panel members talk from personal experience about setting up operations in the SAR and expectations of market developments in the region during the coming months.

Investor Panel

What is the global impact of COVID-19 on the venture capital market? Find out more during the Investor Panel, where we will address the challenges faced by the venture capital community as funding rates slowed during 2020. Learn from panellists from various backgrounds who will explore the recent signs of a return to normality and discuss changes to the investor market, new trends in startup fundraising and the kind of investment opportunities that venture capitals are looking for in a post-pandemic economy.

Corporate Panel

What are the biggest challenges for Corporates to keep innovating? Join us to learn as the Corporate Panel address the growing impact of technology and the need to ride a wave of innovation by building closer relationships with startups as well as rolling out in-house digitisation programmes. Panellists will also address the growing importance of social responsibility as it is a watchword obliging companies to pursue Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) policies that match global standards.

Greater Bay Area Panel

How can Hong Kong's unique strengths in supporting a startup ecosystem be applied to businesses based in the Greater Bay Area? Learn from global leaders on how a growing array of opportunities for startups are based in the SAR to access mainland markets, and how companies in the GBA can raise funding and better target new markets overseas.

Discussions on the current rapid rate of transformation of the GBA markets and infrastructure means that there is a wealth of insight that will be shared by panel members to illuminate new business opportunities.
